The mane attraction

Renowned trichologist Leonica Kei is passionate about two things in her practice – hair and scents.

Her loyal customers swear by her signature treatments, which incorporate the latest technology (think infrared and laser therapies) and her proprietary hair formulas that promise not only to promote hair growth, but can also stimulate the senses with customary essential oils and colourings.

Her hair care offerings are so successful that she has recently launched a series of shampoos and body wash for pet dogs and children that can be customised to suit the needs of each furry client and tiny tot.
